The Secret of Long Life.

A French scientist has discovered one secret of long life. His method deals with the blood. But long ago millions of Americans had proved Electric Bitters prolong life and makes it worth living. It purifies, enriches and vitalizes the blood, rebuilds wasted nerve cells, imparts life and tone to the entire system. Its a godsend to weak, sick and debilitated people. "Kidney trouble had blighted my life for months," writes W. M. Sherman, of Cushing, Me., "Electric Bitters cured me entirely." Only 50 cents at Crenshaw & Young.

The "Standing Evil."

To require a man to stand all day at his work may not be to inflict on him any very great hardship, although the inquiring person who cannot quite believe that mere standing is work may easily satisfy himself on the point by standing on a corner, waiting for a car, from seven in the morning till twelve and then, after an hour's rest, from one in the afternoon till six.

If women could be regarded simply as delicate men, the argument for providing them with seats would be convincing enough. But women differ from men not only, usually, in muscular strength, but also, always and unalterably, in the fact of being women. It is the wife and the mother in a woman that makes continuous standing for her not only trying but dangerous.

It is for this reason that when any woman, worker or non-worker, wants to make out that she has had really a hard day, she will say: "I've just been on my feet every minute." And it is for this reason that among workingwomen no complaint about dust, dampness, or bad ventilation, no complaint about over-driving and overspeeding, no complaint about low wages, is heard with one tenth the frequency of the complaint about lack of seats.—From "The Woman's Invasion," in the March Everybody's.

What's In McClure's.

George F. Parker, in his second paper on Cleveland, in the March McClure's, gives the first authentic story of the remarkable campaign which elected him to the presidency a second time. Prof. M. A. Rosanoff describes the experiments made by scientists, which show, with the exactness of mathematics, the effects of alcohol on all human activities; A. J. Conant, the artist, tells of his experiences in painting a portrait of Lincoln; T. R. MacMeichen describes the country where Roosevelt will hunt in South Africa, and James L. Ford contributes a paper on "Our National Stage." Mrs. Humphry Ward's great novel, "Marriage a la Mode," is continued, and the number contains the following short stories: "Bibi Steinfeld's Hunting," by Eleanor Stuart; "The Reformation of Jack Ketch," by James Hopper; "Mrs. Sweeney's Vengeance," by Charles R. Barnes; "The Fountain Light," by Fielding Ball; "The Vacant Road," by George Kibbe Turner; "The Strength of the Law," by F. J. Lourette, and "The Reckoning," by Robert Lounsbury Black.

Kuehl-Perdee.

Joseph Kuehl and Miss Blanch Perdee were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Perdee, Tuesday morning, Rev. J. M. Saylor officiating.

The happy couple immediately left on the 5:30 trail for Kansas City their destination unknown.

Mr. Kuehl was formerly of Higginsville, and was principal of the schools here but, has been engaged in mining in New Mexico for several years past, coming back to Missouri last year.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Perdee and has been a resident of Odessa since she was a child. She has been teaching in the Independence public school for several years.

The best wishes of their many friends here go with them wherever they may decide to make their future home.—Ledger
